about

Hello. My name is Amey Godse. I like creating beautiful and functional experiences. I am a software engineer with an eye for design. I build mobile applications and websites along with the backends that run them. I love to make sense of data - big and small. I have a background in data science with extensive experience in research methodology and statistics. I have a graduate degree in Bioinformatics and an under-graduate degree in Information Technology. I think writing 'I' many times is slightly less weirder than writing about myself in the third person. I enjoy following my curiosity wherever it leads. It has taken me to surprising and delightful places and has been a great ride so far.

projects

I have over a decade of experience building applications from the ground up. Here are some of the projects I have had the pleasure of working on.

DUALITY ROBOTICS

Duality Robotics combines rich environments, research grade sensors and domain expertise to provide an unparalleled simulation experience for the collection of high-quality high-throughput data.
